ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A scanner that illuminates a partial width of a scan line is disclosed. The scanner first determines the needed scan width and then performs a scan where the full width of the scan is not illuminated.